Attorney Must Be Friend of Jurist to Get Justice, Says the Witness-Tells of Own Bankruptcy Case

BY HAROLD BRANCH (Staff Correspondent.)

MACON, Ga., Jan. 21.—The most sensational evidence yet given in the sensational bankruptcy investigating charges of official misconduct against Federal Judge Speer, who is the southern district of Georgia, came when Colonel Huff, a former Macon mayor, testified that he was "unfair and dictatorial, tyrannical and selfish."

Colonel Huff, who recently was held in contempt of Judge Speer's court for a letter in which he attacked the jurist, told the jury that he was "unfair and dictatorial, tyrannical and selfish."

"WILD CAT" SCHEMES BALKED BY NEW LAW

Fifteen "Shady" Applications Turned Down This Year by Secretary of State

During the first twenty days of the New Year fifteen applications for licenses to sell certain oil, gas and mining stocks in Georgia have been turned down by Secretary of State Philip Cook.

Georgia's new "blue sky" law was back of Mr. Cook in rendering his decisions in these cases. Every would-be "get-rich-quick" scheme was turned down hard. "The applicants," said the secretary of state, "could not show me their schemes were of the proper call, and consequently I had to turn them away. So far those who have come to me have brought mining schemes and it is a difficult matter to find one that is bona fide."

The usual modus operandi in such propositions is to get a tract of land in return for a certain amount of stock as a compensation. "Future dividends" are supposed to bring in cash returns but they seldom come. The land is generally easily procured, however, and on the strength of that showing the outsider risks his dollars for the sake of a rather questionable investment. Mr. Cook believes the number of applications will grow less as the embargo Wallingford began to realize Georgia has really put her foot down on "wild cat" schemes.

GEORGIA TEACHERS ARE SOUGHT FOR NICARAGUA

Superintendent Brittain Asked to Help Secure Corps for Foreign Country

State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Brittain, is in receipt of a letter from Commissioner P. P. Claxton, of the bureau of education of the department of the interior, asking that he assist in securing a corps of teachers from the United States for several institutions in Nicaragua.

The Nicaraguan minister to this country has written the department of the interior in hopes of securing a director and three professors for the institute of Granada, and twelve other teachers, four of whom must be men, of the four model elementary graded schools of about 400 pupils each. The Nicaraguan government proposes to establish in Managua and Granada.

Four of these teachers are wanted for kindergarten and kindergarten departments, four for the intermediate work and four for the upper grades. The director of the institute of Granada will probably be paid a salary of from $1,000 to $1,500 per year. The three professors wanted must be qualified to teach one more of the following subjects: English, French, history, mathematics, natural and physical sciences, agriculture and industry, including particularly school administration and methods of teaching.

Association Holds Election at Meeting and Dinner Tuesday
Evening at Ansley

Oscar Palmour, general agent in Atlanta of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, was elected president of the Georgia Association of Life Underwriters, at the meeting and dinner of the association Tuesday night in the Hotel Ansley.

Other officers elected are J. H. Byrle, vice president; Thomas H. Daniels, secretary and treasurer; W. E. Hawkins, chairman, and R. F. Shedd, R. L. Freeman, H. M. White and P. H. Dobbins, executive committee.

E. M. Willet, who is chairman of the National Association of Life Underwriters, addressed the meeting on "Publicity, Education and Conservation."

Plans were set afoot for a meeting in Atlanta this year of life insurance men from all parts of Georgia.

AD MEN SUMMONED TO ATTEND LUNCHEON

"Executive" summons over the signature of Howard Geldert, "judge advocate of the general gathering," and in the form and phrasing of court subpoenas, have gone out to the members of the Ad Men's club of Atlanta commanding each of them "to be and appear in person on the 23rd day of January, 1914, at 12:30 o'clock, a. m., before a general gathering of the club members at Hotel Ansley, eleventh floor, then and there to testify and give evidence of your ability to eat luncheon and listen to a twenty-minute address by Hon. John M. Slaton, governor of Georgia, on 'The Doctrine of Publicity.'"

An explanatory note with the subpoena informs the members that the affair will be carried through promptly on schedule in order that the governor may return to his office not later than 1:30 o'clock.

FINCH CAN'T REMEMBER STORY OF HIGHWAYMAN

If a highwayman held up H. H. Finch Monday night and caused him to fire twice in the night, Finch had forgotten all about it when he was arraigned in police court Tuesday afternoon. He was fined $100 and bound over under $200 bond.

When Policemen Collins and W. R. Jones arrested Finch, he told them they said, a highwayman had robbed him and that he had shot at the thief. A pedestrian testified he had seen Finch shoot, but that the gun was pointed straight at the stars. Finch admitted in court that he had been drinking and failed to recall his tale of the highwayman.

BILLBOARD ORDINANCE POSTPONED BY ASHLEY

Councilman Claude Ashley, who announced some time ago he would introduce an ordinance in council prohibiting billboards in residence sections, states he will withhold the ordinance last Monday because he has written to Pittsburg, Pa., to obtain a copy of a similar ordinance in force there, for the purpose of modifying his ordinance accordingly.

The councilman states that the Pittsburg ordinance was tested in the courts and was sustained by the supreme court of the state as being constitutional.

According to Councilman Ashley, billboards have become a nuisance in many residence sections of Atlanta, and he believes his ordinance will be passed by council.

HORSE GUARD MEMBERS MUST NOT SKIP DRILLS

Captain Radjill Says He Will Send After Those Who Stay Away

Unless they are sick, members of the Governor's Horse Guard had better attend weekly drill. That is, unless they enjoy being haled from the theater or being taken into custody wherever they may happen to be.

"The present school is compulsory," said Captain O. L. Radjill Wednesday commenting on the efforts of his men to locate those who failed to attend drill Tuesday night, "and if the men lie out for an excuse except sickness, we send out and get them."

The soldier boys "got" one absentee Tuesday night from the Atlanta theater, where he had taken his lady to "Fog of My Heart," clad in khaki military boots made a thorough cavalryman of the theater, and down near the front row they found one of the militia members of the company. He was invited to leave the theater, which he did with a sheepish smile.

The audience sympathized and broke into enthusiastic applause on their return.

NEGRO BOY IS STRUCK AND INJURED BY AUTO

In spite of the fact that Wilson Clifford, a negro chauffeur, drove his car into the curb in an effort to avoid striking Arthur Alford, a negro boy who was skating in the street, the boy was struck and injured by the machine Tuesday afternoon.

Clifford is the chauffeur for H. L. Davidson, of the Duke-Charleston Hardware company. Mrs. Davidson was in the car at the time. The boy was taken to Grady hospital, where it is said he will recover.

The chauffeur was arrested and held under $500 bond to appear before Recorder Broyles Wednesday afternoon.

A. C. WESSELL IS NAMED CO PROBATION OFFICER

Judge B. H. Hill, of the criminal division of superior court, Tuesday appointed A. C. Wessell, county probation officer for adult prisoners, with a salary of $150 a month.

Philip Welton, secretary of the Georgia prison commission, has been temporarily doing the work of probation officer for several weeks, with the understanding that he was not to have the place permanently.

SCORE FAILURE TO GIVE MONEY FOR NEW SCHOOL

Davis Street Patrons "Bless Out" Finance Committee at Indignation Meeting

Resolutions strongly condemning the failure of council to provide at least $10,000 for a new Davis street school building were adopted at an indignation meeting of the Davis Street Improvement association at Jones Avenue Baptist church Tuesday evening.

Those present were mostly parents of children who attend the Davis street school. The parents have recently organized the improvement association. Councilman Jesse B. Lee, from the Fifth ward, came in for attacks from all sides. It is charged he promised before election to see that the new Davis street school was built. Now the members of the improvement association state they will make him live up to this promise.

Alderman James W. Maddox and Councilman J. D. Stason were present and signed the resolutions.

The present school was declared to be unsanitary, dilapidated and uninhabitable. It is stated, have left the school because of these conditions.

Alderman Maddox told the association he did not think there was a chance of getting the money for the school this year.

H. M. Taylor presided as chairman of the indignation meeting.

BAPTISTS PLAN TO RAISE $200,000 FOR HOSPITAL

Half of Sum Will Be Collected in Atlanta and Half in the Rest of the State

At a meeting of the Atlanta Association for the Greater Georgia Baptist hospital in the office of J. J. Coolidge, 15 Pryor street, Tuesday afternoon, it was announced $100,000 would be raised in the state at large during February.

The money in the city will be raised by the Atlanta Association of Baptists, while the State Association of Georgia Baptists, headed by Rev. J. B. McInnis, financial secretary, will have charge of collecting the additional $100,000.

Mr. Coolidge, chairman of the hospital association, announced that a $5,000 and a $1,000 subscription had already been promised.

The pastors of the leading Baptist churches in the city were present and the two weeks' campaign was started by challenges between the churches as to which will raise the largest amount. The headquarters of the campaign are at 12 North Pryor street.

SCREAMS OF WOMAN FRIGHTENS NEGRO AWAY

A negro footpad attacked Mrs. Willie Brown, of 218 East Fair street, about 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the corner of King and Martin streets, striking her on the head with a blunt weapon and tore a diamond ring from her finger.

When Mrs. Brown screamed the negro dropped the ring and fled. Mrs. Brown was taken to Grady hospital, where all wounds on her head were bandaged. She was more frightened than hurt.

"HEART SONGS"

Refreshing as a drink at the OLD WELL

400 SONGS! 500 Pages of Sweet Music 400 SONGS!

HEART SONGS is not a mere collection of music and words! It is a book compiled directly by more than 20,000 people, who, in sending their favorite songs, told why they sent them.

From the lone cabin on the trackless prairie—from the snowy wastes of Alaska—from the mining camp amidst the pines of the lofty Sierras—from the coral strand of an island in the far Pacific, so remote that the ships come only once a year (if they do not forget)—from the garrets of London and Paris, with only the stars above—from the sandy deserts of the Orient, somehow seemingly forgotten by even God himself—came these outpourings of the human heart—from the men and women who loved them—and the singing of which oftentimes saved their sanity and faith in Heaven.

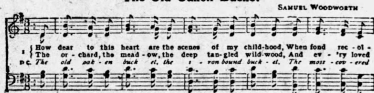

Every song in this wonderful book has had some sacred memory—some touching experience—some sweet and hallowed association—connected with it in the hearts of thousands. It is their song of joy—of sorrow—of thanksgiving—of love—of bereavement—of home-coming—of re-union—of all the tender sentiments that lift the human heart in worship to its Maker. It is for this—by inspiration—that this unique volume is entitled "HEART SONGS!"

ANOTHER HEART SONG

That Will Live Forever

The Old Oaken Bucket

This song to be found on page 495 of "HEART SONGS"

WRITTEN by Samuel Woodworth, the son of a poor Massachusetts Farmer. His fame rests on his exquisite portrayal of the old-fashioned well on the home farm at Scituate, Mass. "The Old Oaken Bucket" was composed one summer day when living on Duane Street, New York. He came home one afternoon overcome with the heat and draining a glass of cold water said to his wife: "That is very refreshing, but how much more refreshing it would be to take a good long draught from the old oaken bucket I left hanging in my father's well at home." Thus inspired, he gave the world that matchless poem and song. "The Old Oaken Bucket," one of the "heart songs" which will live as long as the English language is spoken.

WILL URGE U. S. PENSIONS FOR VETERANS OF SOUTH

J. H. Shelnett Appeals to the Members of Congress for Appropriation

An appeal for the support of senators and representatives in behalf of the bill introduced by Congressman Edwards of Georgia, to give United States pensions to Confederate veterans of the war, was made by J. H. Shelnett, in his official capacity as adjutant general and chief of staff of the North Georgia brigade, United Confederate Veterans.

"I beg you to push it to a successful termination," he writes, in a mimeographed letter which has been distributed through the mails. "Do the most effective and quickest way to give to what we pray for."

The Edwards bill was introduced on July 2 last year. It would provide for

LABOR PROGRAMS PLANNED BY ATLANTA CHURCHES

Prominent Labor Men to Be Among the Speakers in the Future

"Labor programs" have been arranged for several Atlanta churches during the next few weeks. At the Baptist Tabernacle last Sunday night church addresses were made, and this church has signified its intention of having similar meetings in the near future.

The Universal church has arranged a "labor program" for next week, and other churches will follow. It is understood that the churches are beginning to recognize the vital importance of organized labor and its close relationship to religious progress.

Persons of $30 a month to all veterans of the Confederate army or their widow. It has been said that it would be humiliating for Confederate veterans to ask pensions of the United States. "As a Confederate veteran, I know that was a great mistake. Many thousands of our veterans would gladly accept United States pensions."

We need pensions now—not ten or fifteen years from now. At the end of that time there will be few, if any, to pension. We want them now, to make our last days more comfortable. Have never talked with a federal soldier in the Civil War who was not outspoken in favor of every Confederate. I am certain, having a pension from the national government.

General Shillett's letter is reproduced on stationery of the headquarters, North Georgia brigade, U. C. V., with Confederate flag in colors, in the letterhead.

PULSIFER DENIES ANY BOOK TRUST EXISTS

Agent of the Health Company Makes Statement to Legislative Commission

"Constant use of the term 'book trust' by Representative C. R. McCreary, of the late denial by William S. Pulsifer, representing D. C. Heath & Co., that such a trust existed, featured Wednesday morning's session of the legislative commission on the book trust. The commission met in the office of State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Brittain to hear evidence from certain Georgia authors whose books have been adopted for use in the schools and also to examine representatives of publishers whose books were recently adopted. It was during the questioning of Mr. Pulsifer by Mr. McCreary, author of the house resolution, that the allusion to the 'book trust' was made. Mr. Pulsifer emphatically denied that any such combination existed. He declared, on the other hand, that competition between the different publishers was very keen and that there was a fight among them all to get the business.

Mr. Pulsifer was questioned regarding the prices of spellers, arithmetic and readers. The authors, he said, were paid a royalty of 10 per cent and the manuscript was purchased outright. The Ontario books of the same kind could be purchased cheaper, save in one instance, that of the speller. Their price in Georgia is 10 cents, against 12 cents in Canada.

Dr. A. L. Brannan, representing the American book company, was questioned in regard to the cost of producing Nicholson's books. Nicholson's books, Evans of Augusta; S. V. Sanford of Athens, and G. P. Hunnicutt, of this city, testified as to the amount of royalties received for their texts.

The members of the investigating committee present were Senator J. T. Perdon of Mount Airy; Representative C. R. McCreary, of Schley; H. C. Shipley, of the State Board of Education; F. Lloyd, State School Superintendent; L. Brittain, chairman; Prof. T. J. Jones, of Athens, and Prof. G. H. Glenn, of Dalton, representing the educational interests.

Physician Explains Circumstances of Arrest and Hearing Before Recorder

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 21, 1914.

Your paper, with others published here, has for the last few days carried several highly sensational articles about an unfortunate accusation brought against me in the recorder's court. I read it with surprise, for my name and my profession, to make some correction and to say you should give it due prominence.

A young man by the name of Rowe, has become so addicted to the use of whisky and morphine that he has unfortunately to have become practically insane. He is now in the hospital, appearing to be desperately ill, and my wife and myself have been called upon to look after him. He is now in the hospital, appearing to be desperately ill, and my wife and myself have been called upon to look after him.

It was investigated thoroughly by Judge Broyles and the case entered against my son in this court was dismissed. Judge Broyles, on investigation, did me no harm on the idea that kind amount of whisky found at my home. The court did what he thought was right. I have no more to say to my home. I am a very fine gentleman and treated me most kindly. I have my own pharmacy at my home and in this was included a small amount of whisky. It was not there for illegal sale, however, but merely for use in connection with medical work. I am seventy years of age, served my state in the front of the war. I have lived an honorable life in the practice of my profession in this not only for over thirty years, and to those who know me it is unnecessary. But it hurts me, in my old age, for the stories you carried about me to go out to the world and to my home county especially, without some kind of statement of my side of this unfortunate affair. For that reason, I ask that you carry this presentation of my part. Respectfully,

J. H. KING.
CREMATORY IS LAIR OF UNEARTHLY NOISES

Escaping Steam at Garbage Plant Caused Peculiar Fuss Saturday Night

That unearthly noise last Saturday night which sounded like the distant cheering of a multitude, and at times had a note of despair, and at other times an angry sound, has been traced to its lair.

It was steam escaping from the city's crematory, as every one knows, generate heat from the burning of the garbage and the furnace is equipped with large boilers, the city's heat being to harness the steam into an electric plant, whenever it is able to buy the electric power.

Last week they put a sort of bellows device on the top of the boiler where the steam escapes, thinking it would lessen the noise. Its effect was to increase it. The noise was kept awake Saturday night by the unusual amount of steam which was being generated. Now they've doubled the size of the boiler and taken the bellows device and steam escapes silently.

PREDICTS BANNER YEAR FOR ALABAMA FARMERS

ANNISTON, Ala., Jan. 21.—O. P. Ford, president of the Alabama Farmers' union, was in Anniston Tuesday afternoon en route to Albany, where he will attend a meeting of experts preparing to make a statewide campaign in the interest of diversified agriculture and the adoption of modern farm methods. He says that there has been great progress along this line in recent years and he predicts that 1914 will be a banner year agriculturally in this state.

OUTLAW SURRENDERS AFTER A LONG SIEGE

Edward Beardsley Ignores the Sheriff and Gives Up to Hotel Keeper

(By Associated Press.)

MATVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Edward Beardsley, the Chautauque county outlaw farmer, who has for more than a week defied the efforts of Sheriff Anderson and a posse to arrest him, gave himself up to C. D. Backus, a local hotel man, at 4 o'clock this morning, and was locked up in the jail here.

Backus, who was appointed a deputy sheriff by Sheriff Anderson, effected the surrender alone and in keeping with a plan agreed upon between himself and Beardsley yesterday. The outlaw was taken to a hotel where breakfast was served. He then went to a barber shop, after which he walked to the sheriff's office and formally gave himself into the custody of the law.

Beardsley was served with a warrant charging him with assault in the first degree in having shot G. W. Putnam, owner of the poor of Chautauque county, with intent to kill.

REFUSES DIVORCE SUIT AGAINST INSANE WIFE

Judge Pendleton Halts Proceedings in Oden Case Wednesday

"I don't want to see arbitrary, but as long as I am on the bench of this court, no man in good health and able to work is going to get a divorce from an insane wife," declared Judge John T. Pendleton, interrupting the case of Armory L. Oden against Mrs. Estle R. Oden in his court, Wednesday morning.

The development that Mrs. Oden had been adjudged insane and a guardian had been appointed for her and her three children, was an incident in the progress of the suit. The latter was not defended by Mrs. Oden. Judge Pendleton directed that the guardian, R. O. Lovett, "as an officer of this court," appear and show cause why he should not apply for alimony from Oden in behalf of Mrs. Oden and the children.

Lavender R. Hay was attorney for Oden. The petition showed that the unhappy couple were wed in 1903 and separated in 1912. On October 13, 1913, he developed Mrs. Lovett was appointed guardian for Mrs. Oden after she was adjudged insane.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.
ATLANTA NEW YORK PARISWash Goods Wanted For Spring At Savings That Average a Half The Selling Starts at 9 o'Clock

It's one of those true Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. clearaways. The fact that the fabrics are those that foresighted women are eager to get right now and have started on the spring sewing has not changed the methods that obtain here in clearaways. Prices are made without considering that side of the question. But what woman will not consider it? Read the list below, you will see that materials for skirts, dresses and waists are included --that they are the fabrics that you will be paying regular prices for shortly. Indeed, it's nothing if not a timely sale.

Blankets and Comfortables Are Priced!

We would impress the fact that all blankets and comfortables here are those we found to be best values at their respective prices. They had to be before we would select them. Any reduction, therefore, is a genuine and positive saving.

Blue Tag Prices on Bedroom Furniture

The list gives you some idea of the way the Blue Tag affects prices. It remains for you to see with your own eyes how each piece was and is worth the regular price shown in the first column.

Then you will know--as many good housekeepers are learning every day--that now is the time to select the furniture you will need during the next six months.

NEWS OF Women and Society

Mrs. Whittaker's Receiving Party

An interesting social event of Thursday afternoon will be the tea at which Mrs. Alan Whittaker will entertain in honor of Mrs. Edgar Poe McJannet. Mrs. John Marshall Stilton will receive with Mrs. Whittaker and the honor guest, and assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. C. K. Nelson, Mrs. F. H. Bell, Mrs. Reid Hobson and Mrs. R. C. Connelley.

Mrs. Roy Collier will pour tea.

Miss Brown to Entertain

Miss Sallie Eugenia Brown will entertain at a speed-the-day party Thursday at her home on Peachtree road.

Sponsors at Basketball Game

The basketball game between the Atlanta Athletic club team and that of the University of Georgia will be held Saturday evening at the Athletic club on Auburn avenue, and will be followed by the usual informal dance.

The sponsors will be Miss Eliza Brown for the Atlanta club and Miss Marton Pender, of Columbus, the guest of Miss Dotie Cole, for the University of Georgia.

Luncheon at the Homestead

Mrs. E. L. Connolly was hostess at luncheon Monday at the "Homestead" in compliment to Mrs. Isaac Boyd and Miss Elizabeth Boyd.

Mrs. Connolly's guests included Mrs. Boyd, Mr. John Stalling, Mrs. Warner Martin, Miss Willie Eagan, Mrs. Miss Elizabeth Boyd, Miss Frances Connolly and Dr. Connolly.

To Mrs. Hardeman

Mrs. and Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman entertained informally at a dinner Tuesday evening at their home on Fourth street in honor of Mrs. Frank Hardeman, of Athens.

A large French basket holding an artistic arrangement of primroses, tied with a butterfly bow of pink tulle, formed the centerpiece of the table and the place cards were hand-painted primroses.

Dinner was followed by an informal dance in the top story of the garage, which has been converted into a rustic ball room, the logs burning in the wide fireplace throwing a pretty glow over the restful red and brown of the soft-toned walls.

Mrs. Weyman wore a gown of old blue champagne satin combined with lace and Mrs. Hardeman wore a draped gown of taupe-shaded silk crepe. Mrs. Weyman's guests included Mrs. and Mrs. Robt. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richardson, Mrs. Frank Hardeman, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, of New York, and Mr. Thornton Mary.

Miss Blount's Guest List

Miss Ida May Blount entertained twelve guests at a bridge luncheon Tuesday at her home on Peachtree avenue in honor of Mrs. John Chapman, of Alabama, who was formerly Miss Blount.

The house was artistically decorated with palms and foliage plants. Miss Blount was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Ernest Dunson.

The guests present were Mrs. John Chapman, Mrs. Roy Collier, Mrs. Hattie Block, Mrs. Ernest Dunson, Mrs. Joseph Eby, Mrs. Harrison Jones, Mrs. Guy King, Mrs. Benjamin Tye, Miss Francis Connolly, Miss Hattie May Holland, Miss Ida Brown and Miss Margaret Nutting.

Miss Crichton's Matinee Luncheon

Miss Catherine Crichton, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Crichton, will entertain informally a few of her schoolmates at luncheon Saturday, followed by a matinee party at the Forsyth. The guests will include Miss Catherine Dickey, Miss Louise L'Engle, Miss Madeline McCullough, Miss Margaret Whitman, Miss Martha Louise Caselle, Miss Catherine Giddings, Miss Helen Tucker, Miss Margaret Vaughan, Miss Martha McCall, Miss Ruth Walker and Miss Hattie Crawford.

Horsely-Westmoreland Wedding Plans

An interesting event of the evening will be the marriage of Ruth Horsely and Mr. Willis F. Westmoreland, Jr. The only attendants will be Miss Louise Belle Fisher, as maid of honor; Mr. J. H. Way, as best man; and little Miss Jessie de Belle, as flower girl.

An informal reception will follow the wedding ceremony.

To Mrs. Lipscomb and Miss Rutherford

Mrs. Vanover Woolley entertained the members of the Nineteenth Century history class at tea Wednesday afternoon following the delightful address on "Dickens' London," which Miss Mildred Rutherford gave before the class.

The pretty affair was planned in honor of the gifted lecturer and for Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb, of Athens, who arrived Wednesday night to be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr.

Deep rose carmine and fragrant white star narcissi were used with artistic effect on the tea table, resting in cut glass vases joined with delicate crystal chandeliers in the center.

Among the visitors present was Miss Randall, the guest of Mrs. Charles Haden, who contributed to the pleasure of the occasion with several vocal selections.

Orchestral Clubs at Philharmonic Concerts

It is interesting to note that the popularity of the Atlanta Philharmonic Orchestra is extending to all the nearby towns. Already there is a movement on foot to establish, as in the well known orchestras of other American cities, different organizations, women's clubs, musical clubs, etc., in nearby towns who desire to be able to attend the orchestra.

Already great interest has been manifested in the coming concert to be given on January 23 and there have been a great many inquiries for the reservation of seats by musical clubs and colleges who are anxious to hear the orchestra.

The chorus as well as the orchestra part of the program, Musical Atlanta is becoming enthusiastic over the prospect of having so successful an organization and there is every probability that the orchestra will realize the fondest hopes expressed in musical circles.

TURN GRAY HAIR DARK WITH Q-BAN

Not Greasy or Messy—Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time remedy of Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer, for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair, is the best treatment for the hair, and takes effect in using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite suitable, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied, as Q-Ban darkens the hair, which is quite suitable, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Q-Ban is not sticky or messy—delightful to use. Large 75c bottles sold only at E. J. Edmondson drug stores, 11 N. Broad street and 108 N. Tryon St., Atlanta, Ga. Out-of-town people supplied by mail—(Adv.)

His heart thumped.

His man had reappeared and he paused on the tall figure. The hand dropped from the iron railing. There was a brief interchange of words. The young fellow nodded sullenly. Perhaps the old man was warning him of the dangers sometimes resulting from prolonged sitting. From below the elevator creaked up. She eyed the shabby old man calculating! But he would be a match for that tall athletic figure. Ethel thought. Besides he was now circling the other side of the enclosed space.

The young man again laid a hand on the outlying scroll. He was pointing it up as if to tell her she was sure. She looked back a sob; her own hands gripped and frantically at the railing.
And then some one grasped her arm behind, jerked her back. "No, you can't!" said some one.
"What do you mean?" sputtered Ethel turning in a strong hold. "Let me go, Help!" She stretched around and looked into the face of the shabby old man.

"We don't allow people to kill them lives here," he said, crossly. "God! I'll be dead of nervous prostration before they get that iron guard built. Now, see here, miss, may I've got troubles and maybe you just think you have."

"What's so terribly?"

"Trilly." "Why, what do you mean?"

"Why, there's a man on the other side who was getting ready to jump. If you'd had any sense—"

"Not me!" said the tall young man who had run swiftly around to assist her. "I'm not a jumping fellow."

"Yes, you don't mean—"

"Yes, I do," snapped Ethel. She faced him with furiously red cheeks.

"I haven't been hanging over—"

"Watching you!" he protested. "And trying to tell somebody or get ready to start starting you."

"No," she stammered. Ethel was therently. "And I didn't dare call the elevator man."

"You laid all your packages down," she accused her, "and you tried to hide behind that pillar."

"You looked so bad!" she retorted.

"Me?" surprised, "I have a toothache. The dentist on the floor below says, so I strolled up here."

"I certainly will have nervous prostration," declared the shabby old man cheerfully, as he ambled away.

"Oh, well, I don't care," said the fellow, and he went on.

their clever dressmakers modify the prevailing union in such a way as to make it more useful and comfortable, and at the same time to bring out decorative details in the most important points. But nevertheless fashions impose obligations that cannot be evaded, and which are the result of the followers.

For example, a modern woman who looks to the fancy dress costume as an ideal, must not neglect the necessities about herself and the possibilities of becoming and suitable clothes. She must not neglect the necessities of every point of weakness and every point of strength.

The neck and the back are finished with rolls of the pleated cloth. The lampshade tunic is decorated with small folds of brilliant yellow silk. The tunic is lined with black and has a high collar with a high portion on the front of the neck. The skirt is decorated with other rib by strings of beads and tassels. The stockings are white and the slacks, strapped and heelless. The shoes are black and have a sole of much more ample proportion.

She makes a veritable study of costume. This is why the modern fancy dress is so much more elaborate than the older.

Minaret Costume.
The minaret costume is a modification of the interesting clothes from which the minaret is constructed.

It should be exceedingly successful in business and girls probably will marry in it. The sun is in Aquarius, Saturn and Venus are ruling planets.

BY RIPLEY.

"Oh, east is east, and west is west," flows true it is! Certainly the twain will never meet on the same plane with their opinions regarding the stars of the boxing world. The east and west are as far apart in their opinions as they are in miles. In California, a boxer may be a hero—in New York "chick." And vice versa.

Right before our eyes we have the most notable example, Mike Ritchie and Murphy. In San Francisco they think Willie a weak champion and Tommy Murphy a strong contender. In New York they liken Ritchie to Gans and think poor Murphy hasn't a chance. Both are without honor in their own city.

There are others—many others. Wolcott was a lion in the east and a slug in the west. Old Bar Salomon could never make the east like him as he was liked across the Rockies. Young Ernie, an eastern star, was hooded under western skies. Cross is still a second rater on the Pacific side instead of the top notcher he is on the Atlantic seaboard.

Johnny Dundee is a wonder in California and no such thing in New York state.

Kilbane makes the Gothamites frown and the westerners smile.

Packie McFarland gets cheers in the east and chills in the west.

Even "dumb-bell" Smith's recent victory failed to raise him in western estimation to anywhere near the lofty attitude he occupies in the east.

And so it goes! A "jam" here, a "near" there, and always will be, I guess.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 21.—President Kawanaugh, of the Southern league, announced today that the committee which will draft the 1914 schedule will meet in this city January 21 of next week.

Owing to the illness of Charley Franz the task will be entrusted to Charley Colson, of Mobile, and O. B. Anderson, of Chattanooga, with the league's executive presiding. The committee at the Atlanta conclave was instructed to draft two schedules, one calling for 16 games and the other for 154 games.

The opposition to the short schedule in vogue in 1913 is expected to precipitate a lively controversy.

stock market today is most convincing. The president Wilson has the support of the investment public. We have had a slight advance, but this is only the beginning of what we believe will follow. The trend will be upward and the path will be easy for the man who has faith in the recuperative powers of the country.—Potter.

LONDON BANKER INDORSES TARIFF AND MONEY ACTS

Declares They Will Increase Commerce of England and

United States

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The United States tariff act and the currency bill passed by the American congress were the most important events of the year till the conference of the world assembly. Sir Felix Shuster, governor of the city of London and Smith's bank is to give a general review of the financial and trade outlook, read at the annual meeting today. He continued:

"The resources must have far-reaching consequences, for they have made the United States a more formidable competitor than ever before, at least as regards international commerce."

YOUR MONEY

Postal Savings and the Parcel Post.

By JOHN M. OSKINE.

of the postal savings banks and a little more than two years ago they had any general distribution. The parcel post has been in operation just over a year. And thus early, in some quarters, they have been pronounced failures.

Near the end of 1913 it was announced that the postal savings term had cost the government $100,000, and the government had received in interest from depositors of postal savings funds only $537,932; the loss to the government was $99,968 in three years.

Do you call this failure? I don't. Any group of business men operating on so close a margin of profit as the government pays 2 per cent on the money and gets 2-1/2 per cent from the banks with which it deposits and with such a wide-flung organization would expect themselves lucky to do as well in the first three years of operation. They would look forward confidently to the time when the balance should be in their favor, and, of course, long ago they would have been hustling for business.

This paper referred to the record estimate that the first six months of operation yielded a profit of approximately $4,500,000—and then proceeded to demonstrate to its own satisfaction that if the service had borne its proportionate share of the expenses of the postoffice department the profit would have been turned into a loss.

THIS paper, however, argued, predicted an annual loss of $24,000 on the parcel post business of 1934-35 and repeated its query. Does It Pay? If the article had come from the office of an express company I could have understood it.

Pay? Of course it pays—and I repeat it for the small shipper. Are the post-savings banks a failure? No! I answer for the small saver. And both services were established for the benefit.
